A Journey of Discovery and Redemption

Veena Schlegel's "Mountain in China" is not merely a novel; it is an exquisite tapestry of emotions, a symphony of human experiences that will resonate with your soul. Set amidst the breathtaking landscapes of Tibet, this poignant tale follows the intertwined lives of two extraordinary women.

Meet Marina, a young British woman fleeing the pain of her past, and Dolly, a Tibetan woman who has experienced unspeakable horrors. As their paths cross on the slopes of the sacred mountain, they embark on an extraordinary journey of healing and redemption.

Love Blossoms Amidst Adversity

Schlegel's masterful storytelling captures the complexities of human relationships with sensitivity and grace. Through the lens of Marina and Dolly, we explore the transformative power of love, its ability to heal wounds and ignite the flame of resilience.

Unveiling the Tibetan Soul

More than just a love story, "Mountain in China" invites readers into the heart of Tibetan culture. Schlegel paints a vivid portrait of the region's ancient traditions, spiritual beliefs, and the resilience of its people.

From the bustling streets of Lhasa to the remote monasteries high in the mountains, Schlegel's narrative reveals the complexities and beauty of Tibetan society, providing an unforgettable glimpse into a world that is both ancient and deeply modern.

A Testament to the Human Spirit

At its core, "Mountain in China" is a testament to the extraordinary resilience of the human spirit. Through the trials and tribulations that Marina and Dolly face, readers are reminded of the indomitable nature of the human soul.

With each page, "Mountain in China" becomes an immersive experience, transporting readers to a world where love, resilience, and the indomitable spirit triumph over adversity.
